A ROUND OF TALK.

Pledges.

BY MADISON CRAWLIN.
What the May-apple or Woodland anemone—
Star-Perfect as a star—
Says to the honey bee:
Or to the winds that woo
Filling their heart with dew:
What says the blue's blue
To the sun's gold—do you Listen, and you may hear
What the oracle says
Into the downy ear
Of the pale moth that aways
There on its heart and drink;
Or what the forest pinks
Say to the dew that winks,
Butterfly wings that blink, Glimmering by.
They say: "When April tread
By in a blowing blith
He comes as the word of God
Holding all Heaven a-bush—
Holding a song of love,
We as the passed above,
Sprang from the notes thereof,
Filling with joy each grove,
Beauty and mystery."

ANGLED.—Lawrenceburg and Anderson county is getting all tangled up over the local option question. Lawrenceburg which is a fourth class city held an election on the saloon question a short time ago and the majority of the voters declared in favor of licensed saloons. The advocates of local option however are not satisfied and have called an election through the county judge for the entire county, including the city of Lawrenceburg, for June 11th. The temperance advocates in their zeal are in danger of killing entirely the effect of the operation of the County Unit law as passed by the last Legislature. It won't stand much prodding for at its best it is an ambiguous and poorly worded thing and it will require several opinions of several Courts of Appeals to properly construe its real meaning. In one place it excepts from its operation the first four classes of cities, presumably, if they elect to be excepted, and later on says if a county goes dry every part of the county shall be affected. In other words if counties like Jefferson or Daviess should take the vote and go dry then the great cities of Louisville and Owensboro would have to be dry whether they wanted the election or not. The same claim is made by the local option forces at Owensboro which also went "wet" at a recent election. Daviess county as a whole went "dry" and it is contended that Owensboro cannot legally allow saloons to operate. It seems to us to be short sighted policy on the part of the temperance forces to thus attack the county unit law under which at the recent local option elections (the most of which have been temperance victories) have been held. There might be danger of knocking out the whole business.

LICENSES—Some of the good business men and taxpayers of the town who are required to pay a special license tax for doing business in the town of Springfield are finding themselves confronted with a possibility of paying extra costs for failure to step up and pay their licenses when the time arrived. Under the new town laws and regulations every taxpayer is required to call on the City Treasurer and pay his license tax without any special notice. Nearly all license taxes are due the town on April 3d and a notice to that effect was published and the taxpayers given ten days in which to make good. The ten days of grace expired on Saturday last and delinquent tax warrants were issued against many who had been slow about coming forward. The good citizens of Springfield are all right, and are good to pay up all debts, but they have been spoiled by being indulged and waited on by tax-collectors in the past, that it will take some time for them to get used to the new regime.

A buggy with six wheels is the latest. John Lily Barber has them.

Big Slander Suit Dismissed.

The damage suit of Rev. J. A. Hogarty against Mr. J. H. Kearns for slander has been dismissed in the Circuit court, by consent of both parties after Mr. Kearns had filed and made a record a written disclaimer in the following words:
I, J. H. Kearns, sincerely regret that anything I have said at any time or place should have construed as an accusation against the Rev. J. A. Hogarty of attempting to bribe a voter or to purchase a vote or of his having any connection with such an attempt. I disavow any intention of making such an accusation in anything I may have said. Any imputation, connecting Rev. J. A. Hogarty with a supposed attempt to bribe a voter, or to use illegal means to procure votes in any election, is without grounds for suspicion and is a gross injustice to him—Falcon.

A Narrow Escape.

G. W. Cloyd, a merchant of Plunk, Mo., had a narrow escape four years ago, when he ran a jimson bur into his thumb. He says: "The doctor wanted to amputate it but I would not consent. I bought a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and that cured the dangerous wound." 25c at Haydon & Robertson's Drugstore.

Loves Yerkes.

Concerning John W. Yerkes' resignation, says Louis Ludlow in the Louisville Post, ex-Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who was his superior officer five years said: "I am glad that Yerkes is going back to the practice of law, and this is because I love Yerkes. He is one of the grandest men and noblest characters it has ever been my pleasure intimately to know. He is affectionate, and tender as a woman, and as brave and fearless as a Kentuckian. I am much in doubt if a more efficient officer ever gave 100 per cent. of service for 50 per cent. of pay and 100 per cent. of thanks than did John W. Yerkes for more than six years." The selection of a successor to John W. Yerkes as national committeeman from Kentucky is receiving attention in political circles here. Notwithstanding his service will last for fifteen months or thereabout, there is a lively talk as to his successor, Richard P. Ernst, chairman of the Republican State Committee is the one most frequently mentioned to succeed Yerkes as national committeeman. There is a feeling that since he has devoted much time and effort to the State chairmanship he is justly deserving of a promotion to the higher place.—Danville Advocate.

Fractured Fireman's Skull.

At Burgin Monday night B. H. Baker, a brakeman on a Cincinnati Southern freight train, struck J. L. Reese, a fireman on the same train, on the head with a hammer and fractured his skull. It is said that the two men were constantly nagging at each other, and when the train reached High Bridge Baker went into the waiting room of the depot and the door, having a spring catch, locked itself when he entered. Reese thought Baker was holding the door to keep him out, and when he did gain admittance to the office, he struck Baker with a poker, cutting a deep gash in his head. The train then continued its way, and when it stopped at Burgin, it is said, Baker walked to the engine and struck Reese on the back of the head with the hammer. The wounded man was taken to Dr. Meredith's office where that gentleman, assisted by Dr. Freeman, dressed his injury. Later he was taken to the Lexington hospital to be operated upon. The physicians also took several stitches in Baker's head where he was hit with the poker at High Bridge. Deputy Sheriff Davenport went to Burgin Tuesday morning and brought Baker here and placed him in jail.—Harrodsburg Herald

A War Relic.

T. C. Dudgeon, of Cane Valley, has a silver teaspoon which he "faked" from Captain Jeter in the Civil War. He and some of the other soldiers were invited by the Captain to take breakfast with him one morning when they were in camp. They accepted the invitation and after the meal was over and the boys had taken their leave the Captain was "silly" a teaspoon. Mr. Dudgeon had become attached to it. He carried the spoon during the remainder of the war, and since then he has stirred his coffee with no other spoon. He prizes it very highly.—Speeator.

72,000 ACRES.

Of 1907 Tobacco Crop Are Pledged.

The board of directors of the American Society of Equity, which met here Wednesday, announced that 72,000 acres of the 1907 crop of Burley tobacco had been pledged to be handled by the American Society of Equity. Following this announcement, President Clarence Lebus, of Cynthiana, said that the 72,000 acres of the 1907 crop pledged is 7,000 acres more than was pledged of the 1906 crop to the society. The board of directors decided not to give out the detailed amount of tobacco that has been signed up in each county, as the society finds that it has not only the trust to combat, but also the warehouse men. The meeting was called to order shortly before 10:30 o'clock by President Clarence Lebus, of Harrison county. After the roll call by Secretary Lucien Becker the meeting went into an executive session and no one but the members of the board was allowed to stay in the room.

It was stated by President Lebus that the object of the meeting was to get reports from the various counties as to how the organization stands at present and how much of the 1907 tobacco crop has been pooled by the farmers up to this time.

The general condition of affairs in each county union were fully reviewed and the members of the board will endeavor to decide on several important points, as to what course to pursue within the coming year and many other things.—Ky. Observer.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. "Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being affected. We then employed other doctors, but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Eczema Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured. Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at Haydon & Robertson's Drugstore. 50c.

Scarcity of Tobacco Plants.

The prolonged cold weather and continuous frozes and heavy frosts during the month of April, have exercised a very important bearing on the Burley Tobacco Association. The weather conditions are combining with the farmers to force the price of tobacco up to fifteen cents per pound or more. From general reports from all parts of the burley district more than two thirds of the plants have been killed, and those that have not been entirely destroyed have been so badly damaged that they will be of little account. It would seem that it is not possible to set and raise more than a half crop of tobacco in the district. This condition of affairs was reflected in the markets in Cincinnati and Louisville last week. In Cincinnati only 230 hogsheds

Judge W. C. No ruling has yet been made in cases where the corporation is a non resident of the state of Kentucky but doing business in the State. The Commonwealth will appeal from the above ruling.—Danville News

Successful Entertainment.

It was a well pleased audience that enjoyed a varied and attractive musical program given at the Opera House on last Friday evening under the direction of Miss Sue Ray at the head of the Mandolin and Guitar Club. The performance given by the members of the club was somewhat of a revelation to many who heard it who had perhaps not before realized that such good music and such a variety could be produced from two instruments. There were choruses, quartettes, double quartettes, trios, duets and solos, galore all showing the practiced hand and effect of skillful training.

The vocal contest among four boys of the Graded School as to whom should fall the honor of representing the school at the

Graded School tournament, aroused a great deal of interest.

The contestants were Leo Simms baritone; Knight Haddy tenor;

Parker Medley, baritone and

Harry Shultz, bass. The young men all did exceedingly well and it was evident to the audience that the judges faced a hard task in awarding the winner.

The decision was finally made however and Mr. Parker Medley was chosen for first honor and

Mr. Harry Shultz for second.

Among the special vocal selections which were excellently rendered and which elicited prolonged applause from the audience were "Carissima"

sung by Miss Mary Haydon with

Messrs. Shultz and Waters and Miss Ray in chorus; Mr. Will Waters sang two songs which were well received one being the prize

song in the School Tournament at Harrodsburg last year. The Serenade by Schubert, for women's voices was well rendered by

Misses Laura McChord, Francis

Martin, Sue Ray and Katie

Hertlein. Miss Laura McChord, of Lebanon, sang two solos, "The Moon Song" and "Sleep Little Baby of Mine," both of which were very pleasing and rendered in a most delicate and sweet manner. Miss Hattie Rice's recitation "The Freckled Face Girl" was a pleasant variety to the program. Miss Ray and her assistants in the other entertainment. Miss Martin and Miss Waters and others deserve credit for a pleasant entertainment.
